

LITERARY CLUB

August 2004

It was my turn to send out monthly postcard notices to our book club members for this fiscal year. We were using a customized hand-stamp and were doing the project by hand. Up to that point, none of us had the computer skills to do otherwise.

Since I had worked with Anne at All That's Clerical before on a cookbook project, I knew she had desktop publishing skills and was confident she could manage our database and mailings as well.

I was right!

All members have commented on how beautiful the cards look. In addition, Anne changes the design each month for added interest and appeal. The members thought I had suddenly become a computer genius. I wish! However, since I'm not, at least I have Anne!

Another benefit of using Anne is that the cards are sent promptly each month with no reminding. I simply give Anne the new information for the next month and wa la.... All That's Clerical makes me shine!

Sincerely,
